Open Line: Legislating Morality, Cigarette Labels & Burning IVF Labs

After many requests, we finally launched Life Report's new interactive webcast: "Open Line!" Open Line is a brand new call in show where you get to ask the questions.

"Open Line" is all about interacting with you. This will mainly be done through live phone calls. We want to hear what YOU have to say. We will also be moving all of our listener mail over to this show, meaning it won't take so long before getting the answers you want.

We will regularly be incorporating expert guest co-hosts from around the country on this show. That means you'll get a bigger variety of answers to the questions on your mind.

"Open Line" will happen every other Tuesday at 6:00 p.m. PST. That means that either "Life Report" or "Open Line" will be on the air live at 6 p.m. EVERY TUESDAY! Make us a part of your week. We want you to help us lead these important public conversations about pro-life dialogue and activism.

"Josh and the team at Life Report produce on a weekly basis the best short-format, web-based discussion of the abortion issue available today. Bar none.

I'm a regular listener because it nourishes my soul to know that there are such even-handed and humble advocates for the pro-life view.

In a word, Life Report is refreshing. It's no wonder that the Life Report team also counts many pro-choice advocates among its audience. People of all perspectives on abortion hunger for the sort of discussion in which people take truth seriously but also genuinely want to hear opposing viewpoints and evaluate them fairly.

Josh and his team produce a show that is like a good square meal made from the finest ingredients by a master chef. If you've been dining in a fast-food dump of talk radio and shout-over-each-other television, feed your mind and heart like I do at the Life Report table each week.

You won't be disappointed."

We recently created a new section of our website called "link parties." Every Monday we host a link party on a chosen topic, like "Roe vs Wade" or "stem cell research," and pro-life bloggers set up links to their best work on that topic. So you can see the topic and say, "I'd like to learn more about stem cell research today," and see some great content from the best of the pro-life blog world on that topic!
