Quote of the Month

"Life Report is my new podcast addiction. Anyone with even the slightest interest in this area should check them out!"

I like their incorporation of philosophy - for example, they can explain the various fallacies well in a way I get.

I like the way they can have many differing opinions and have actual discussions on their show, even with pro-choice people.

Finally, they're not afraid to say, in charitable way, when one on "our side" has...been less than effective.

Right now I'm still in that "oh my gosh how could I not have heard of this! So... many... awesome... episodes!" stage. But I will get to them all."

Secret Planned Parenthood Document Exposes Their Dishonest Debate Tactics

Josh, Liz and Gabi react to a leaked Planned Parenthood document that trains their volunteers to purposefully have bad dialogues with pro-life people. A stark contrast is made between the kind of dialogue that Planned Parenthood wants us to have, and the kind of dialogue we've been training people to have on this show. There are also some insights that can be made on the way Planned Parenthood directors think based on things that are said in this document.

Right to Life Makes an Impact at UC Irvine!

by Josh Brahm

For the first time, Right to Life of Central California facilitated a campus outreach outside of Fresno. It was amazing.

Looking back on the training and outreach we did, here's a few things that stand out in my mind. (Besides how fantastic our team did.)

I enjoyed UCI because the students that stopped, stayed and talked for longer than students at many other schools. We weren't averaging 5-minute conversations. We were averaging 60-minute conversations! One girl stayed for 5 hours! I believe her life is changed.

Natalie Martinez and the SFL group at UCI are awesome. They've been doing outreach for years, and we got to meet a mother who gave birth to her child thanks to that group. Natalie said this was the best pro-life outreach that had ever been to UCI. She feels like the students stopped and talked to us for so long because we train our volunteers to be different. We're positive, we listen to people, and we can respond to the toughest pro-choice arguments.

We were also blessed to build some powerful relationships with awesome pro-life people and churches.

I have a lot to be grateful for. I'm grateful for Catherine Wurts from Justice for All for her wisdom and experience.

I'm grateful to Outreach Director Kyle Goddard for happily creating brand new systems to help me facilitate upon being asked. We couldn't have done this without him.

I'm grateful for the INCREDIBLE job Outreach Intern Gabi Vehrs and JFA Mentor Clinton Wilcox did with the volunteers they worked with. Every one of their volunteers rated their experience as an 8 out of 10 or higher.

I'm grateful to Executive Director Jonathan Keller for having the vision of reaching outside of Central California.

I'm grateful for two awesome Alaskan pro-lifers who traveled 2,400 miles just to be part of our training and outreach.

If we had such success at UC Irvine during Summer School during the week of midterms, just imagine the impact we could have during the Spring or Fall semester, when there are 22,000 students on campus...

I can't wait to go back.
